

Neuras Adventure Week

Staying at the Namibia Wildlife Sanctuary for 3 weeks or longer? Why not embark on a Namibian adventure by swapping a week of your itinerary for the Neuras Adventure Week! Nestled at the foot of the Naukluft Mountain range lies the Neuras Wine and Wildlife Estate, originally purchased by the sanctuary as a carnivore release and research site, it also houses the world's second driest vineyard, and the production and sale of wine here helps to fund all aspects of wildlife conservation efforts run by the sanctuary. Bordering the Namib desert, the Namib-Naukluft National Park and Sossusvlei, Neuras breeds adventure and with the week offering you 7 days of hiking across the breath-taking geological formations of Neuras and surrounding areas, you'll stand in the face of the varied, striking landscapes that put Namibia on the map. Join us on an adventure as you conquer the rugged lands of Namibia, care for rescued cheetahs, swim in natural spring pools, sample unique desert wines and witness stars like never before. Come and discover why Namibia is known as 'The Land of the Brave'.

Activities:

Truly an adventure for avid hikers, this 7-day itinerary will see you walking a minimum 5km every day, covering the stunning grounds of Neuras, conquering the iconic sand dune Big Daddy, walking through the eerie white clay pan of Deadvlei and taking on the famed 10km Olive Trail through the Namib-Naukluft mountain range.

Calling all wine connoisseurs! As you'll be staying at the second-driest vineyard in the world, you'll have the opportunity to sample the unique wines produced here, and you may even find yourself helping with harvesting, bottling or labelling Neuras wines.

Depending on the time of year, you could see yourself immersed in Namibian wilderness at night as you relax around a campfire and drift off under a blanket of stars on a sleep out!

Outs

Cheetah feeds

Having been affected by human-wildlife conflict, 7 cheetahs rescued by the Namibia Wildlife Sanctuary now call Neuras their forever home. Whilst here, you'll help care for these stunning big cats by taking part in daily feeds!

To end multiple hikes, you'll be taking a dip in the natural freshwater springs that pepper the unique grounds of Neuras.

Whether it's hiking in various stunning locations, feeding feisty cheetahs or sampling wine that helps to fund conservation efforts, you'll have some incredible photo opportunities, so don't forget your camera and don't forget to tag us!
